Dear Mr. Freidenrich:

I would like to take this opportunity to let you know what a great product you have in your Bio-Compression System. We purchased our unit last summer and it was immediately put to use during the fall season. We used our system for various injuries throughout the year - from working on getting severe swelling out of our starting quarterback's knee (3rd degree MCL sprain) to treating our baseball pitchers tendonitis in their throwing shoulders we had great success. Our baseball and softball pitchers would line up after throwing practices to get their treatments. It helped - without a doubt - keep two of our senior baseball pitchers competing the entire season. These two individuals had battled tendonitis in their throwing shoulders since they were in high school. During their first three college seasons they missed various practices and games because of these chronic conditions. This year - with these two individuals using the Bio-Compression system for their main treatment they missed no practice or game time. Our athletic training staff feels that without the Bio-Compression system these two would have missed some practice and game time again this past year.

Again, thanks for a great product from the Cornell College athletic training staff and the college's student-athletes.

Sincerely,

Dick R. Simmons, A.T., C.
